

Pastoral Land Commission – National Secretariat

Communication Office

---

Agenda suggestion

CPT holds a seminar to launch the publication, Conflitos no Campo Brasil 2022, on Monday (17)

On April 17, at 9:00 am, at the University of Brasília (UnB), the publication "Conflitos no Campo Brasil 2022" will be launched, which brings alarming data on violence in the countryside of Brazil in the last year. According to the Dom Tomás Balduino Documentation Center (CEDOC-CPT), in 2022 there were 47 murders due to conflicts in the countryside, an increase of 30.55% compared to the previous year. This year, the launch will take place in the form of a Seminar, at the Auditorium Esperança Garcia, in the Faculty of Law, and the program will run until 5 pm, with round tables.

In addition to the high number of murders, conflicts over land in Brazil increased by 16.7% compared to 2021. Data from the 37th edition of the report also highlight the deaths of Yanomamis as consequences of conflicts, for the records of violence in the Amazon and Matopiba regions and presents numbers of cases of workers rescued from conditions analogous to slavery, which correspond to the highest rate in the last ten years.

The launch of the publication is an opportunity for the press to highlight these numbers and bring to light the discussion on rural violence in Brazil, which has been increasingly frequent and worrying.

---

Launch of the report: Conflicts in Rural Brazil 2022

When: April 17 (Monday), at 9 am (Brasília time).

Where: University of Brasília – Esperança Garcia Auditorium – Faculty of Law – Campus Darcy Ribeiro – Bairro Asa Norte, Brasília/DF.

All data will be available on the CPT website: www.cptnacional.org.br and the transmission of the activity can be followed by the CPT pages in Facebook and Youtube (@CPTNacional).

To request releases with embargoed data, contact the Communication Office:

Renata Albuquerque: +55 81 99663-2716 / comunicacao@cptne2.org.br